The game works and is completely playable, which is so much more that can be said for most of today's minor indie releases.

The game can be completed in round about 2-3 hours ,it depends on the person playing it, the game in itself is short, but can get quite challenging.

The background music works well with the game ,its quiet and peaceful which doesnt get repetitive or annoying so we have that.. Good promise, too short, too easy, wait for more content V features before jumping on it. Get it if you want something simple you can beat in 25-30 minutes without too much hassle. I will recommend it, because it is a well made game, it just lacks content right now.

Pros:

- Nice, simplistic design
- Calm background loops that don't get annoying

Cons:

- Difficulty of the first 25 levels is all over the place, there seems to be no linear increase in difficulty
- 25 levels is too short for a title like this. I played through it in 25 minutes, I am sure you can do it faster

Suggestions:

- More levels
- Increased difficulty
- Difficulty modes that increase game speed V modifiers
- Highscores for levels. Great game, challenging puzzles, awesome soundtrack.

My AWS D buttons got broken 80/10. Game is not that bad but at the time I'm writing this it has only 25 stages which can be completed in 30 mins.. I quite enjoyed watching it crash into walls and those flying red crystals. The controls suck and you can't even change it to the arrows or the mouse. :/. This is a very difficult game ... It is very difficult to describe in words =(Frankly it was a game only to 2 lvl 1 attempt. Did 10+ approaches to lvl 2, has reached the turning fins, I thought finally !!! And without going broke in the rotation =(

I contact the developer and ask for our little bears do to pass the game.

At that soon I received a response and changes in the complexity of the game! Very satisfied with the developer, as well as music in the game, and most toy!!!

To some extent that I always missed since Tetris =(). Game is unbeatable at level 4.. Fun game but needs a lot more content!.

Pros:

- 25 levels
- New mechanics that other similar games don't have like the flying asteroids
- No time limit
- Cheap
- Challenging

Cons:

- Low replay-ability

- -No Multiplayer
 - -No Options Menu
 - -No Workshop
 - -Mp Randomization

Small, cheap \$3 game with Cons which are expected at that price label. I would recommend this game if you like this genre although once finished don't expect to come back and play more because the levels are set in stone, there is no randomization. Maybe the developer will add more levels in the future, although a suggestion to the developer would be to include a workshop with community made levels and think about multiplayer.

I one way exited into your mom
